Lady Bears travel to support former players Sticklen, Meyer

The Bracken Co. Lady Bears traveled to Kentucky Christian University on November 19th to watch the Lady Knights of Kentucky Christian University and the Lady Eagles of Asbury.

Former Bracken Co. Lady Bears Katelyn Meyer (senior PG - KCU) and Sara Sticklen (Sophomore G/F - Asbury), once teammates, now adversaries on the court competed against each other.

"Katelyn and Sara, two hard workers, on and off the court, made the whole county proud", said Coach Kelsch. Sticklen's Asbury squad bested Meyer's KCU squad in overtime by the score of 87-78.

Meyer finished the game with 3 pts, 4 rebounds, and 4 assists and Sticklen finished the game with 11 points and 5 rebounds. "I've had a lot of proud moments as a coach. I've led teams to a Class A Championship and back to back district championships, but I was just as proud tonight watching two former players compete at the collegiate level", said Coach Kelsch.

Best of luck to Sara Sticklen and Katelyn Meyer as they continue their season.

Find "Noelle the Elf" for a chance at $100

Santa is anxiously awaiting news on the good little boys and girls of Bracken County from a little girl elf named Noelle. Apparently Mrs. Claus read the book, The Elf on the Shelf: A Christmas Tradition, to a group of young elves over the weekend, mesmerizing little Noelle. She was so inspired by the tradition in some households, she wanted to see for herself and help Santa update his naughty and nice list. She has been sighted briefly in the yards and woods near homes in Bracken County. Sightings will become more prevalent from Thanksgiving until Christmas Eve as she silently moves around the county checking on children. Children of the county, young and old, are reminded an elf's Christmas magic is very fragile, so "Noelle the Elf" cannot be touched, only admired from afar, like the elf that may be sitting on a shelf in your home, and she can only move around, and report to Santa at the North Pole, when everyone is asleep.

Helping to continue the tradition of an elf on a shelf in Bracken County, The Bracken County News will be giving away $100 in their promotion to find "Noelle the Elf".

Readers can win by searching the ads, headlines, and pictures to find out where "Noelle the Elf", as shown at left, is hidden, in four locations, in this issue, the Dec. 5th, and the Dec. 13th issues of The Bracken County News.

To enter, simply fill out the locations with page numbers of each hiding place of "Noelle the Elf" on an entry form included in each issue and mail or drop off your forms to the office by Mon., Dec. 16th at noon. Only forms that contain all 12 locations are eligible to win. One entry will win the $100.

Bracken merchants present "Mad Dash Deals" give-a-way

Several Bracken County merchants are again working together to provide three lucky winners with extra cash just in time for Christmas in our "Mad Dash Deals" Merchants' give-a-way. Merchants participating this year are Amy's Blue Daisy, Augusta Farm Supply, Augusta Irish Pub, B & H Grocery, The Bracken County News, Bradford's Home Mart, Citizens Deposit Bank, Dean's Pharmacy & Country Loft, the First National Bank of Brooksville, Jim's Auto Outlet, K's IGA, Kern Food Distributing, Lee's IGA, Miller's Home Center, Miller Lumber, Reynolds Pharmacy, R's Liquor & More, Snappy Tomato Pizza, Subway, and US Bank.

Beginning this week, there will be a different word search puzzle featured for three weeks through December 12th. Each week's words will be taken from the merchants' ads and mixed together to form a word search puzzle.

Drop off or mail your weekly completed word search form(s) anytime before Monday, December 16th at noon to The Bracken County News, PO Box 68, Brooksville, KY 41004. Three lucky winners will be chosen from all the entries received. The 1st entry drawn will receive $250, 2nd entry drawn will receive $100 and the 3rd entry drawn will receive $50. See this week's merchant's page on page 18.

Remember to shop locally to help boost the economy with the many unique gifts Bracken County businesses have to offer.

Santa Claus Lane hours announced

Santa Claus Lane will be open this Sat., Nov. 30th, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Sun., Dec. 1st, 12 - 3 p.m. for everyone to enjoy. Santa Claus Lane is located at the Watson Community Building in Brooksville, and is sponsored by the City of Brooksville and the Hometown Traditions Community Club.

Next Saturday, December 7th, the doors will open at 9 a.m. and will close at 3 p.m. for the "Light Up Brooksville" Parade. The doors will reopen after the parade so remember your cameras for the first of many Christmas pictures.

Open house honoring Maxine Cummins this Sunday

An open house honoring Maxine Cummins on her 80th birthday will be held on Sunday, December 1st from 2 to 4:30 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Building on Grandview Drive in Brooksville.

Come and enjoy the afternoon with Maxine and her family and friends. A "toast and roast" will be held at approximately 3:15 p.m. Your presence and best wishes are all that are requested!

To All The Good People of The Milford Precinct

I, Doug "Smitty" Smith, am seeking re-election as your Magistrate. Just as before, I'm here working for you. If I can get it done I'll do my best to help you. I'm the same "Smitty". I am a veteran and I am looking forward to serving the good people of Milford and working to help improve Bracken County, along with other members of the Fiscal Court.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated. As before, if you need me, contact me anytime day or night.

In the true spirit of community and giving, several members of the local churches in Augusta, gathered on Wednesday, November 20th to prepare a Thanksgiving meal for members of the community. Ladies and gentlemen gathered at the Augusta Presbyterian Church by 10 a.m. and began the process of peeling and cooking 120 pounds of mashed potatoes, 8 restaurant cans of sweet potatoes and green beans each, stuffing, gravy, cranberry sauce, and slicing 12 turkeys and about 36 pumpkin pies.

Young and old alike gathered to practice the teachings of Jesus found in Matthew 25. In the spirit of "... as you have done to the least of these, you have done unto me", 260 plus meals were boxed and delivered. Students from Augusta Independent and Bracken County High School worked with youth and adults from the Augusta Presbyterian Church, Augusta Christian Church, Augusta Methodist Church, and St. Augustine Catholic Church and made quick work of boxing, labeling and sacking the meals for delivery. Everyone involved with the meal left tired from a good day's work and filled with the joy and peace and that comes from giving of one's self for those in need. The Community Thanksgiving Carryout meal was sponsored by the Augusta Ministerial Association.

LIVING & GIVING

Author: Anonymous

Whatever you give away today, or think or say or do, will multiply about ten fold, and then return to you

It may not come immediately, nor from the obvious source, but the law applies unfailingly, through some invisible source

Whatever you feel about another, be it love or hate or passion, will surely bounce right back to you in some clear (or secret) fashion

If you speak about some person a word of praise or two, soon tens of other people will speak kind words of you.

Our thoughts are broadcasts of the soul, not secrets of the brain. Kind ones bring us happiness, petty ones, untold pain

Giving works as surely as reflections in a mirror; if hate you send, hate you'll get back, but loving brings love nearer

Remember as you start this day, and duty crowds your mind, that kindness comes so quickly back to those who first are kind

Let that thought and this one direct us through each day: the only things we ever keep are the things we give away.

A Bounty of Best Wishes at Thanksgiving

May the coming holiday bring an abundance of good fortune to you and your family.

We know we feel truly fortunate to have neighbors like you ~ thanks!

Sen. Webb named Friends of Libraries 2013 Outstanding Advocate for the Year

Senator Robin Webb, D-Grayson, has been named the Friends of Libraries 2013 Outstanding Advocate for the Year.

The senator was presented the award at the Friends of Kentucky Libraries annual meeting that was held in conjunction with the Kentucky Book Fair on Nov. 16 in Frankfort at the Convention Center. She is the first recipient of the outstanding advocate award.

Senator Webb was honored for her efforts in helping to establish the Carter County Public Library and for her support of public libraries at the state level. She is a co-chair and a founding member of the Kentucky General Assembly Public Library Caucus and has been a top advocate for public libraries in the General Assembly.

"It is an honor to be recognized for the work that I do, but I don't do it for recognition, I do it because Kentucky's public libraries need a champion," Senator Webb said. "We have libraries because of the hard work of volunteers. Unfortunately, they were not state recognized until the past years. I share in this award with the staff, board, donors and volunteers of the libraries."

The Friends of Kentucky Libraries President, Mary Lynn Collins, who presented the award to Senator Webb, noted that it was Senator Webb who in 2008 called a meeting of local officials and interested citizens to talk about establishing a library for Carter County. She challenged the local officials at that meeting to make it happen. Those officials did step up and today Carter County has a public library system with two locations.

"Libraries are a very important part of any community. They offer so many educational, cultural, social and technological avenues that their worth cannot be measured," Senator Webb said. "I will always be a proponent of libraries because of the many doors opened for those who utilize all they offer."

Commissioner for the Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives, Wayne Onkst, also commended the senator on her support of public libraries. "On occasion, Senator Webb has been the lone voice for libraries in the face of powerful opposition. She has spoken on behalf of public libraries when no one else would do so," he added.

The Friends of Kentucky Libraries Inc., established in 1952, is a non-profit organization of volunteers supporting public libraries across Kentucky. The Kentucky General Assembly Public Library Caucus is a bipartisan organization for members of the Kentucky General Assembly who support public libraries through state initiatives.

THE VALUE OF FASTING

There are lots of good reasons to limit our intake of food, ranging from health and financial reasons to emotional and spiritual benefits. An ancient idea that has recently gained traction is the practice of fasting. Instead of trying to limit one's calories each and every day, some scientists are proposing the idea of Alternate-Day Fasting or ADF. ADF regimens typically allow the person (or animal, lots of experiments have been done using rats and mice) to eat whatever he or she wants one day and then requires them to fast or consume a very limited number of calories the next day. More research needs to be done, but preliminary findings are promising, suggesting that ADF may reduce the risk of diabetes, heart disease and even cancer. Some are even suggesting we could live longer if we followed an ADF regimen. But, how might such a regimen benefit us emotionally and spiritually? Fasting and self-mortification can obviously be taken to extremes where they become unhealthy and even life-threatening. But, most of us suffer from the opposite problem: we are too self-indulgent. Delayed gratification and a sense of accomplishment is one of the byproducts of a successful fast. Eating can bring momentary pleasure but controlling one's appetites gives a deeper sense of lasting joy. — Christopher Simon

"When you fast, do not look somber as the hypocrites do, for they disfigure their faces to show others they are fasting." - Matthew 6: 16

Concord United Methodist holiday programs

Concord is gearing up for the Christmas season. The choir and children's ministries are practicing for their respective programs, church leaders are planning activities & messages, and members across the church are getting ready. Mark your calendars and come join us!

Sun., Dec. 1 at 11 a.m. is our annual "Hanging of the Greens" service. This is our 20th year of presenting a quality program that tells the meaning behind Christmas and all the decorations. Appreciation to Nauva Harding for directing the program and all the musicians, singers, and participants for all your hard work.

Sun., Dec. 15 at 6 p.m. will be our annual Children's Christmas program. Our children will lead us in remembering the Christmas story and more. It's not too late to let Tina Jefferson know if your child wants to participate. Rumor has it we will have a special guest that evening.

Sun., Dec. 22 at 8 p.m. will be our Candlelight Service. This is always a very moving service. Please join us for the sharing of Christ's light.

Tues., Dec. 24, Christmas Eve is the popular "Come and Go Communion Service" from 5-7 p.m. Come, pray, and prepare your hearts for a spirit filled Christmas.

Don't forget worship each week. Concord now offers two opportunities each week to meet God and His people - 6 p.m. Saturday evenings for a non-traditional service or 11 a.m. Sunday mornings for the traditional service. We would love to have you as our guests at any of these services.

BROOKSVILLE ASSEMBLY OF GOD

by Janice Whitney
10:00 a.m. - Christian Education: St. Luke goes to great lengths to describe all the aspects of the First Century Church. One primary characteristic of the first believers was their absolute commitment to tell their world about Jesus and all He did. Sunday's lesson, "Loving God to the Ultimate".
11:00 a.m. - Worship Service: St. Matthew followed the life and ministry of Christ very closely in his Gospel. He is faithful to share both the victories of Jesus as well as the trials Jesus faced here on earth. Pastor Norm Whitney's message is, "Who has need of Jesus?".

You will receive a warm welcome at Brooksville Assembly of God.

Oakland Christian presents "Walk Through Bethlehem" December 1, 7 & 8

As a gift to our community, God's family at Oakland (in Pendleton County) is presenting their "Walk through Bethlehem." Come and see the shops, the sounds and sights, the guards, the hustle and bustle of Bethlehem as it might have been at the time of Jesus' birth. Meet Mary and Joseph and the babe at the stable. See the royally robed Magi as they journey to find the baby. Your outdoor journey ends at the tomb where you'll meet Nicodemus and an angel as they proclaim the "reason for the season."

Come and see the true meaning of Christmas. Before your tour you will hear special singers inside the church. This is indeed a very special free event for all ages. Remember to dress warmly. Tours will be held 5:30-8:30 p.m. each evening. Refreshments are served. For more info. or directions, just call 859-654-6174 or 859-797-3719.

NEW ZION BAPTIST

by Sheril Fletcher
Come join us for Worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday School begins at 10:00 a.m., Morning Worship is at 11:00 a.m. and Evening Worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible Study is on Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m.

Upcoming: Dec. 8 at 5:30 p.m. the WMU will have their Christmas Party, the New Zion Christmas Celebration will follow at 6:30 p.m. On Dec. 15 during the morning service there will be a presentation of the Kid's Christmas Play and the Year in Review.

Please remember in prayer Mike Downie, Gina Hale, David Hale, Rob Newman, Mark Branham, Valerie and Greg Ramsey, Michelle Perkins, Lisa Powell and the Horan and Godley families.. Also pray for our country and its leaders.

BERLIN BAPTIST

by Karen Cooper
We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday School at 10:00 a.m., morning worship at 11:00 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7:00 p.m., message by Brother Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist Church. Brother Dan's message was taken from Matthew 26:17-30 and titled "Examine yourself and prepare before coming to the Lord's table."

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES

by Caroline Jefferson
This Sunday, December 1, marks the beginning of the Advent Season which is four weeks of preparation and anticipation of the celebration of the birth of our Savior, Jesus Christ! While retailers warn us that there are only X amount of days until we once again welcome Baby Jesus into our hearts! Let us start each day with a prayer, asking God to let us LIVE the season of giving and caring, not just SURVIVE the hustle and bustle!

Our Religious Education Classes are suspended for this Sunday because some of the families are still out of town for the Thanksgiving holiday. When classes resume, the children will have practice and receive their costumes for the upcoming re-enactment of the Nativity which is Sunday, December 22. Please mark this date and be sure to participate in our 8 AM Mass that morning, and then join us for our Fourth Sunday Breakfast! May God be with all those who are suffering from any physical, spiritual or mental issues during this Advent Season and bless them with peace, comfort and healing as we look forward to the birth of His Son!

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI

by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian
As always, we had a busy week in the life of the Presbyterian Church. Monday night we had our Soup Supper and we had many who showed up for the food and fellowship.

Wednesday, we had our annual Thanksgiving Day carry-out meal. The United Methodist Church, St. Augustine Church, Christian Church, and the Presbyterian Church sponsored the event. Many people from the churches and the community helped put on the meal. Henry Ford would have been proud of the assembly line that was set up to fill the plates. I am always amazed with so much being done and being done so expertly. The workers were very tired but also excited that once again all of these meals were prepared and delivered.

Sunday we had our annual combined service with the Christian Church. We met and worshipped in the Christian Church and ate a potluck dinner in our church. Our fellowship Hall was filled.

Next Sunday is the beginning of the Advent season.

Bracken County Farm Bureau Honors Joe Claxon

Bracken County Farm Bureau met on Tuesday night, November 19th for their regular meeting and to honor Joe Claxon, Area Representative for Kentucky Farm Bureau, on his retirement. Joe has represented Bracken County Farm Bureau as their area field person for the last twenty-eight years. He has been very dedicated and helpful to all the Farm Bureau officers and directors in this county. To honor him Farm Bureau president, Leslie Newman presented Joe with a gasoline gift card and also a gift card to one of his favorite restaurants.

Ina McCord, Farm Bureau secretary and treasurer, who had worked with Joe all those years, presented him with a handmade quilt she had made for Joe in appreciation of his help and most of all his friendship. Joe's family- wife, Beth and son Evan attended the dinner meeting with him.

Special guests were Perry Poe and Felicia Thornsburry and her father Jerry. Felicia was county contest winner in the variety contest and represented Bracken County well in the district. Perry has served as Farm Bureau master of ceremonies for many years at their annual meeting.

Cooking with a pressure cooker

Submitted by: Shannon Smith, CEA for Family and Consumer Sciences

At the end of a busy day, many of us would love to quickly produce a tasty, nutritious, home-cooked meal with minimal effort. One way you can achieve this is by utilizing an electric pressure cooker.

Some of you may be hesitant about using a pressure cooker, either because you're not familiar with them or have heard horror stories from your mother or grandmother about pressure cookers exploding and the cooker and its contents flying across the room. As long as you correctly follow the manufacturer's operating instructions for the cooker, you can cook most foods very safely. Today's pressure cookers include more safety release valves and interlocking lids, which makes them safer than older models. Electric pressure cookers have their own heat sources that are automatically regulated to maintain the desired pressure.

In an electric pressure cooker, foods cook three to 10 times faster compared to conventional cooking methods because the cooker does not allow air and liquids to escape the container below a pre-set pressure. As the pressure builds, the temperature inside the cooker rises above the normal boiling point.

This not only helps the food cook quickly, but it helps food retain nutrients and requires less water to prepare items. It also results in less energy used to prepare foods. You can cook multiple foods at the same time, which saves in dirty dishes and time.

In addition to following the manufacturer's directions, never fill a pressure cooker more than two-thirds full or more than halfway full for soups or stews. Realize that the hotter a food or liquid is going into the cooker, the quicker it will cook. Brown meat or poultry before putting them into the pressure cooker for best results.

Generally, foods that expand as a result of foaming and frothing, such as applesauce, cranberries, rhubarb, cereals, pastas, split peas and dried soup mixes, should not be cooked in a pressure cooker.

Cleaning methods will vary depending upon the type of pressure cooker you have. Follow manufacturer's guidelines for cleaning.

Store pressure cookers in a cool, dry place with the lid inverted on the body. Failing to do so can result in unpleasant odors and cause wear and tear on the lid's seal.

Remember you should not try to use a pressure cooker as a pressure canner to preserve food. The quick come-up and cool-down times may not be long enough to kill all harmful microorganisms, which can cause foodborne illnesses from eating the canned foods.

More information on food preparation is available at the Bracken County office of the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Celebrating Thanksgiving in the states with family and friends

On Thursday evening, November 21st, Rylee (5), left, Blake (10), center, and Carter (8), right, arrived from Frankfurt, Germany to celebrate Thanksgiving with their family in Bracken County, Kentucky, and Indiana. They are the children of Augusta native, Tessa Brooks Lemons and MSgt Jeremy Lemons, and have been stationed at Ramstein Air Force Base in Germany for the last 3 years. MSgt Lemons has been deployed since June and has served several deployments since 9/11, they are looking foward to reuniting with him early next year.

46th Annual Frontier Christmas, Sat., Dec. 7th and Sun., Dec. 8th

The Historic Washington Shopkeepers are inviting the public to browse and shop during the annual Frontier Christmas sponsored by Old Washington, Inc. on Saturday, December 7th and Sunday, December 8th from 10-6 Saturday and 11-6 Sunday. Most shops will close at 5 pm with the Christmas play in the 1870 New Beginnings Church at 6 pm ending the event both days. Admission is FREE. Seven museums and many of the homes will already be decked out in Pioneer style greenery, candle-lit windows, pine-scented rooms and holly-decked mantles. Step back into the 18th Century as you tread the flagstone walks of our pioneer forefathers, as many of your ancestors have done for the past 45 years and enjoy this 1700’s village for a day or the weekend. Many new Christmas festivals have started in the past 45 years, most have not continued. Frontier Christmas remains a tradition with candle dipping in Mefford’s Fort C.1797 log cabin, hot cider in the Albert Sidney Johnston C.1797 Museum, Bluegrass Artisan Center located in a 2-story pre-1790 log cabin, previously the Cane Brake Visitor’s Center with local and regional art exhibits, demonstrations and educational programs. 1790’s Goforth House noon to 5 both days with FREE educational printmaking activity.

Celebrate an Old Fashion Christmas with, crafts and demonstrations. Many professional groups with traditional Christmas renditions will provide the musical entertainment in the 1848 Old Church Museum both days. Including a bagpiper, Hammered dulcimer, Mountain dulcimer, Low D Whistle, autoharp, Appalachian dulcimer, guitar, several groups as well as strolling musicians and carolers. Santa will be here and Mrs. Claus and an elf. Food is a real treat, with a new restaurant in the 1790 Row House scheduled to have their grand opening at this event. The Limestone Chapter DAR and CAR will be in the pre-1810 Paxton Inn with sit down dining plus traitional foods, Kentucky Burgoo, Venison stew and home made desserts. Vesper Service is Sunday at 4:00 in the Old Church Museum. Click on www.washingtonky.com Washington’s website under Events for full schedule with times and updates.

Numerous Historic buildings feature antiques, and handmade specialties to put one in the spirit for great holiday shopping. Old Main Street’s shops offer an array of Primitives to Victorian antiques, a lamp shop with 100s of shades of all types and specializing in Fenton lamps and replacement shades, lamps, and lamp parts, antique Bluebird & Autumn Leaf china, crafts, Fiesta ware, custom pottery of local towns and covered bridges in KY, jewelry, Michael Kors jewelry and purses, cut glass, silver, prints, framed art, frame shops, and a Dollhouse shop. Collectibles include Cat’s Meow, Mary Hadley and Bybee pottery, Fenton Glass, paperweights, and paper doll books. Some shops feature Christmas Corners all year and some will have specials, drawings for prizes, give coupons, and put candy in each bag.

Set up and sell your wares - Especially looking for Baked goods, Country Ham & Biscuit sandwiches, good hand made crafts and antiques. Vendor spaces are limited Call 606-759-8224 or E-mail marsha.jones59@yahoo.com.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court. Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2013 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

606-735-9960

Howdy Folks! Happy Thanksgiving 2013! Celebration and time are still controversial issues regarding the first Thanksgiving in America, but according to one article, it wasn't until 1623 that Governor William Bradford of Massachusetts invited the Wampanoag Indians to share the harvest with the settlers. Without the aid of these Indians, the pilgrims would not have survived the harsh winters and summer droughts. After that humble beginning, Thanksgiving was celebrated on various dates but 150 years ago in 1863 President Lincoln proclaimed Thanksgiving as the last Thursday in November. This went well for a while until the last Thursday fell on November 30, which meant retailers lost a full week of Christmas shoppers. So on November 26, 1941, President Franklin Roosevelt signed a law establishing the fourth Thursday in November as the official Thanksgiving holiday! It is unfortunate that commercialism has all but cancelled this family time with large stores opening their doors as early as 8 p.m. on Thanksgiving, forcing employees to shorten or even forego the fourth Thursday Thanksgiving celebrations. Retail giants are not going to stop their invasion of the holiday, so it is left to the individual to determine whether the advertised bargain or family get one's time and attention. Maybe if shoppers just said "no" to these hours, the stores would get the idea!

Due to Thanksgiving, the Recycling Center will be closed on Thursday and Friday, so Milford and Gertrude will not be getting a trailer this week. We are truly sorry for the inconvenience and certainly appreciate your understanding these circumstances! As the busy season approaches, we remind our recyclers to break down boxes and please do not put Styrofoam into the trailers, including egg cartons. There have been quite a few bags of plastic bags in the trailers recently and they do not get recycled at the center but have to be diverted to the landfill. The only way to recycle plastic bags is to drop them off at the Kroger, Walmart and Lowe's stores in Maysville, or give them to the Quarter Corner in Brooksville for reuse. Another item that can be recycled at Lowe's is all those strings of non-functioning Christmas lights. A drop-off container will be located in the Lowe's Returns Department until shortly after Christmas for light recycling. We recently read that Christmas lights end up in their country of origin, China! The lights are sent through a processing machine that eventually separates the plastic from the copper. This is so much more beneficial to the environment than mining for new copper and certainly more economical.

This past Friday, November 22, our nation held ceremonies in key locations to commemorate the assassination of President John F. Kennedy fifty years ago. Those of us old enough to remember, know our exact location when the news of President Kennedy's death reached our ears. For us, the old Bracken County High School's loud speaker rang out with Mr. Jarvis Parsley's announcement of the tragedy. Events following that shooting were carried by all TV stations which was a big deal in 1963, and as teenagers, the future seemed uncertain! That uncertain future saw many world shattering events and we are grateful that we have lived those years in the warm embrace of our Bracken County home! Our family has grown and yes, we have said goodbye to many family members, but that is the circle of life. We pray this Thanksgiving Day that each of you will be blessed and your family's future secure as you RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen' you – Bin & Bug.

The very small percentage of dogs that bite are proof that dogs are the most forgiving creature on earth. Forgiving and thanksgiving seem to go hand in hand. I am thankful for all of you that have helped the Bracken County Animal Shelter. Helping an animal may be as simple as sending someone to the shelter to view, adopt, volunteer, or donate a bag of dog food. I am so thankful for all of you. Have a wonderful Thanksgiving and may God bless you abundantly. Visit us soon at the Shelter, or on Facebook. Call 606-735-3475.

State Rep. Mike Denham files for another term serving 70th District

State Representative Mike Denham, who has represented all of Mason, Bracken and Fleming counties since being elected in 2000, has filed for an eighth two-year term serving the 70th District. The new district, which takes effect after next year's elections, will expand to include Robertson County.

"It is an honor and a privilege to serve this region in the Kentucky House of Representatives," said Rep. Denham, D-Maysville. "I have done all I can to give our schools the tools they need and to improve our infrastructure, increase our jobs, and promote all that we have to offer."

Rep. Denham serves as the House chairman of the General Assembly's Subcommittee on Rural Issues, and is vice chairman of three other legislative committees: Agriculture & Small Business; Banking & Insurance; and Local Government. He also serves on the Appropriations and Revenue Committee and its Budget Review Subcommittee on General Government, Finance and Public Protection. He also is a member of the Economic Development Committee and the Tobacco Settlement Agreement Fund Oversight Committee.

"These committees cover subjects that are especially important to our region, and I've enjoyed being a part of them," he said. "They all promise to be especially busy when the 2014 legislative session begins in January."

to sell the hereinafter described tract of real estate and any improvements thereon. This sale is to satisfy an in rem Judgment and Order of Sale in favor of the Plaintiff against the Defendant herein in the total sum of $307,614.26 plus interest at the rate of 6.50% per annum from June 29, 2012 until the date of judgment and thereafter on the entire sum at the judgment rate until paid, reasonable attorney's fees in the amount of $1,150.00, together with amounts for late fees, penalties of late charges, assessments and advancements for the protection of the property including, but not limited to, taxes and insurance, escrow advances, insurance premiums and court costs incurred herein.

The real estate to be sold is described as follows:
Address: 153 Michelle Drive, Germantown, Kentucky 41044
Being Lot 2, consisting of 4.695 acres and Lot 3, consisting of 9.704 acres, as shown on the Minor Subdivision Plat as prepared by R. David Hord, PLS #3264 of RDH Surveys, Inc., attached to and made a part of Deed Book 293, Page 494, in the office of the Mason County Clerk.

SOURCE OF TITLE: Being the same property conveyed to Steven James Chandler and Rita Dawn Chandler, husband and wife, from KBK Partnership on June 6, 2007 and recorded on July 2, 2007 in Deed Book 183, Page 609 of the records of the Bracken County Clerk's Office.

The property shall be sold to the highest and best bidder(s) and said purchaser shall be required to pay cash or the sum of ten percent (10%) of the bid price in cash deposit with the balance of the purchase price to be due and payable in cash or certified funds, within thirty (30) days from the date of sale. The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety, bearing interest at the rate of 12% per annum from the date which is thirty (30) days following the date of sale, until paid, and payable to the Master Commissioner.

The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal together with all accrued interest thereon. If the total purchase price is not paid in cash, the required deposit shall be applied to any expenses incurred by a default of the purchaser. Provided, however, in the event a party of this action is the successful bidder at the sale of the property by the Master Commissioner, then the said party, upon payment of the court costs and sale expenses and any liens or judgments that have been given priority herein over the lien and judgment of said successful bidder/party, shall have its bid credited against its judgment herein.

If the purchaser(s) fails to comply with the terms of the sale then, in such event, the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as set forth herein, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale. Possession of the property herein sold shall be given to the purchaser after payment in full of the purchase price and confirmation of the sale by the Bracken Circuit Court.

Pursuant to the Judgment herein, the purchaser shall be required to assume and pay all ad valorem property taxes assessed against the property for 2012 and all subsequent years thereafter. The title interest of the parties to the lawsuit will be conveyed without warranty by the Master Commissioner to the purchaser and the purchaser shall receive a deed to property upon payment of the purchase price in full (and costs of sale, if applicable) and after confirmation of the sale by Bracken Circuit Court, subject to any equity of redemption if the property does not sell for two-thirds of its appraised value.

Augusta Cross Country Season Recap

Another season of cross country has come and gone. When the season begins, runners and coaches are worried about staying hydrated and monitoring the heat index, but by season's end, they are layering their clothing, trying to stay warm. Just as the weather changes, so do the runners and the program, with the goal being a change for the better.

Augusta began by adding another piece to its cross country puzzle with the addition of an elementary team. The inaugural season for the young boys and girls lasted two months and consisted of four races. There were a variety of goals for the young team. It was hoped to first get students interested in the sport at a young age, making it more likely that they stay with the team as they get older. Another goal was to start the training program for the young athletes, having them accustomed to running. Finally, it was meant to give younger students an opportunity to get active and be involved. The elementary team gave the program its first team award by bringing home the second place trophy from the Iceberg Invitational at Bracken County.

The middle school team experienced a jump in numbers and individual success. Part of that was due in part to three new students to the school district: Skyler Haas, Seth Haas, and Kody Saylor. "None of them were 'runners' before they came here. They played basketball and were athletic, so I recruited them for our team," Coach Tim Litteral said. "Seth and Skyler both worked hard, and they both recorded a couple of top 15 finishes. Skyler really wanted to improve as a team. Unfortunately for us, they moved out of the district as the season was ending, so we will miss them next year. Kody was able to finish in the top ten in a couple of meets. They brought their times down by four or five minutes throughout the season."

Morgan Thorpe and Seth Fouts, although not new to the district, were new to the team as sixth graders. Both also had some top 15 finishes. "If they continue to work hard and work in the off season, they can really help us next year," Litteral stated. Eighth graders David Reed and Thomas Mains split time with the middle school and high school teams, but were typically top finishers for Augusta when they ran the middle school races. In one of those races, the MS team placed first at the Bluegrass Conference Meet.

The high school team was led by sophomore Camryn Snapp. He had seven top 15 finishes with six finishes in the top ten. He finished five races in the top five. He set his personal record at the Mason County Invitational, running a 17:42. Accolades included being named 1st Team in the Bluegrass Conference, 2nd Team in the Buffalo Trace Conference, and being named All-Region 1st Team. His season was capped off with a fourth place finish at the Regional Championship, advancing him to the KHSAA State Championship for the second consecutive year, where he finished 32nd out of 216 runners. "Camryn had a good season and has continued to progress," Litteral said. "There was some fluctuation in his times the first half of his season, but his last five meets were 18:17 or under. He really established himself as a consistently low 18:00 runner. I think that's a positive sign going into next year where he wants to be more consistently under 18:00."

This year's team elders were juniors Nathan Shrader, Nick Zeidler, and Jessie Zornes. This year marked each runners' first complete season of cross country. Zornes knocked seven minutes off from the beginning of the season, while Shrader and Zeidler both finished around the 22:00 mark. "I've had discussions with each of these runners that focused around where we need them to be for the team next year, which is around the 20:00 minute mark," Litteral said. "We really want to focus on qualifying for state as a team next season. I feel like we have the top talent we need to get that done, as Camryn should be a contender to win the Region next year. What we have to have is some of these other runners step up to get around or below 20:00."

As mentioned previously, eighth graders David Reed and Thomas Mains contributed part of the time at the varsity level. Reed's first 5K of the season in August was 28:19, but by season's end at the region, he ran 21:58. Mains was fairly consistent throughout the season, hovering around the 23:00 mark. "This was a difficult season for Thomas battling knee issues," Litteral said. "We've been told it's something he will outgrow and should be healthy next year. He could have easily sat out this season, but chose to battle through it instead. With David, I think how good he can be and how much he improves is primarily mental. Every varsity race he ran this year, he experienced improvements. As freshmen next year, both Thomas and David could be really important to this team."

"One Team, One Goal," a motto Coach Litteral saw at the state championship, sums up his thoughts for next year. "It's time to have more than individual successes. Those are great, but I want more than that, and I think I now have a group of guys who want more than that. Augusta qualifying for state is a reachable goal next season, but the work must start before team practices begin July 15. We don't have track to keep us in shape during the spring. How serious my guys are about wanting to get to the next level will show based on the kind of effort they put in during the off-season this spring and summer."

Frankfort Focus

A Legislative Perspective on the Kentucky General Assembly
State Rep. Mike Denham

If Benjamin Franklin had had his way, it's possible that the centerpiece of most Thanksgiving meals this week would not be the turkey.

While he did not actually recommend it replace the eagle as a symbol of our nation, he did, in a letter to his daughter, believe that the turkey's qualities were more virtuous. He called it "a true original of America" and "a bird of courage."

It's possible that wild turkey was on the menu of that first Thanksgiving nearly 400 years ago, but some historians believe other fowl, such as ducks and geese, were more likely part of the feast shared by the Pilgrims and the Native Americans.

The one thing we know for sure is that it took some time for the holiday to settle into its current location on the calendar. President Washington called for a day of national Thanksgiving on Nov. 26, but the states began establishing their own dates in the years that followed.

In the mid-1800s, for example, Kentucky Governor Robert Letcher actually moved the holiday back to Sept. 26.

It was President Lincoln who first established the modern holiday schedule, setting Thanksgiving as the last Thursday in November. In the 1940s, Congress clarified that it would always be on the fourth Thursday.

President Lincoln is believed to have started another tradition around this holiday: The "pardoning" of the turkey by the President, which in this case was at the request of his son. The ceremony as we know it today, though, only dates back to the 1980s.

It was during the late 1800s and early 1900s, meanwhile, that the regular practice of giving a turkey to the President's family during Thanksgiving began, thanks to a poultry farmer from Rhode Island; there is an account, however, that a turkey from Kentucky shared billing at the White House a century ago.

As we gather around the table this week, many of us may find ourselves reflecting on that for which we are thankful, including our families.

We are thankful for our veterans and those still serving, our first responders and a country under God where we are free. We can also thank our farmers for their work in making sure that we have enough to eat. There are only a few states that have more farms than we do.

While many of us will be eating at home this year, many others will be visiting our state resort parks, including Blue Licks Battlefield State Resort Park in Robertson County. All of them offer a full meal between noon and 8 p.m. It's something to consider for those who may be looking for a new tradition or to take a break from hours spent in the kitchen. Also, please remember those who are less fortunate, and if you are able to assist with a Thanksgiving meal for them, please consider doing that.

Whatever you decide, please take a little extra time when travelling during what the U.S. Bureau of Transportation Statistics says is the busiest weekend of the year. When compared to a non-holiday period, the number of those travelling more than 50 miles away this week goes up by half.

On behalf of my family and the Kentucky House of Representatives, I wish each of you a wonderful Thanksgiving.

Medicare's "Extra Help" program helps people with limited income to pay for their prescription medications Making ends meet should not mean going without your medications. If you have limited income and resources, Medicare's "Extra Help" program sets it up so this year you might pay no more than $2.60 for each generic drug and $6.50 for each brand name drug. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services estimates that more than 2 million people with Medicare may be eligible for the subsidy, but are not currently enrolled to take advantage of these savings. A recent law changed how your income and assets are counted:

- Life insurance policies do not count as resources
- Any help you get from relatives, friends and others to pay for household expenses - like food, mortgage, rent, heating fuel or gas, electricity, water, and property taxes - does not count as income

Many People Qualify and Don't Know It

The changes that took place have allowed more people than ever to qualify for "Extra Help." Even if you were previously turned down for "Extra Help" due to income or resource levels, you should reapply. If you qualify, you will get help paying for Medicare prescription drug coverage premiums, copayments, and deductibles. To qualify, you must make less than $17,235 a year (or $23,265 for married couples). Even if your annual income is higher, you still may be able to get some extra help. Your resources must also be limited to $13,300 (or $26,580 for married couples). Resources include bank accounts, stocks, and bonds, but not your house or car.

There's No Cost or Obligation to Apply

For more information on how to apply, call Beth Love at Buffalo Trace Area Agency on Aging and Independent Living State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) at 606-564-6894 or 800-998-4347.

Students should be aware of their credit report

Students should be aware that they are building a credit report whenever they take out a loan, even a student loan, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA).

A credit report shows everything about your past and current credit history. It will list every loan you have, to whom you pay it, your loan balance, your credit limit and if you pay early, on time or late.

The report itself does not tell potential lenders if you are a good or bad credit risk. It simply provides the details the lenders can use, along with a credit score, to make that determination.

Other information on your credit report includes:

- Your personal identifying information.
- Any public records such as tax liens, court judgments and bankruptcies.
- A list of any company that has requested a copy of your credit report.
- Any statements you have submitted disputing something in the report.

Your credit report should not show your bank balance, race, religion, income, criminal record or driving record. Nor should it have anything about your health, although medical bills may show up as debt.

To get a copy of your free annual credit report from each of the three credit bureaus, go to annualcreditreport.com.

Bracken acknowledges National Adoption Day on November 21st

Knowing that every child deserves a loving, nurturing and permanent home, the Cabinet for Human and Family Services works diligently to help thousands of abused and neglected children placed in their care each year. These children consist of older boys and girls and teenagers, not newborns. Many have unique medical, psychological or physical needs, and adoption gives them a brighter future. While bringing joy to the adoptive parents, adoption also helps to lessen the demands on social services. On Thursday, November 21st, Bracken County Judge Executive Earl Bush acknowledged the willingness of families to adopt these children and the patience required to handle the many hardships the children have faced and will continue to face due to special needs because of their physical, mental or emotional disabilities. Also recognizing the children and their adoptive families require and deserve community and public agency support.

If you would be interested in learning more about the foster and adoption options available, contact CHFS at 606-735-2195 and help to make a difference in the life of a child in your community.

Farm Start coming to the Area

The Extension offices in the Buffalo Trace counties will offer the Farm Start program on Dec. 9th and the first meeting will be at the Mason County Extension office starting at 6:00

The Farm Start program is designed to get producers thinking of the farm as a "business." The goal of the program is to provide producers avenues for networking with other groups to get information about management decisions that can efficiently improve the farm operation as a profitable business. The sessions will offer producers a framework to utilize resources and tools to aid in management decisions for their business. Although the name is "farm start" seasoned producers or producers with no experience in farming can benefit from the program. Topics will include:

- Farm Start Kickoff/ Mission Statements
- Getting Familiar with Ag Groups, Technology Available for Operations
- Soil Mapping/Soil Testing
- Transitioning Farm to Future Generations
- Farm Business Planning/Budget Sheets
- Understanding Liability of the Farm
- Production Practices
- Graduation/Business Plan Completion

If you are interested in attending the Farm Start Classes, please call the office and register. There will be a $25 registration fee for the meetings. (606) 735-2141

Kentucky Author Releases A Force To Be Reckoned With, the Sequel to Delayed Reckoning

In July of this year, readers enthusiastically welcomed a new murder-mystery, Delayed Reckoning, by local author, Sterling Young – or Vic, as he locally known.

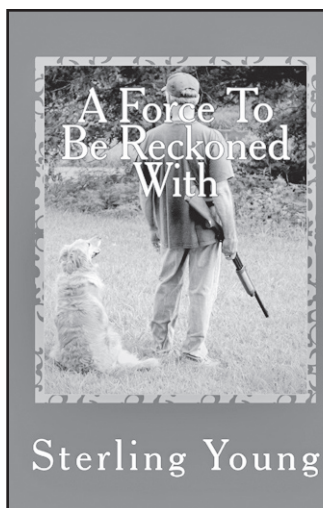

The second book in the Tom Padgett series, A Force to be Reckoned With, continues the story of the tension and conflict between Tom Padgett and Sheriff Bill Wilson.

Sheriff Wilson remains fixated on arresting Tom Padgett for a series of murders and other crimes he believes Tom is involved in. His relentless pursuit of Padgett prevents any real progress in his investigations, let alone bringing anyone to justice for the series of events that plague his county.

Acting on information from Tom's ex-wife, Wilson thinks he's found the key to Padgett's state of mind. Certain that this new information will unlock the mystery surrounding Padgett, Wilson devises a trap for him, positive that he will finally prove that Padgett has had a hand in everything bad that has happened in Nicholas County.

The pressure of Sheriff Wilson's constant harassment and other twists of fate as the story unfolds take their toll on Tom in unsuspected ways, building to a surprise and violent ending that propels Padgett and Wilson into new territory. Will the hunter now become the hunted?

Readers from all walks of life can relate to the dramas depicted in the Tom Padgett series. Although Delayed Reckoning and A Force to be Reckoned With are set in rural Kentucky, the issues, events, and characters are reminiscent of those found in counties or cities across America.

But for local readers, the combination of a fictitious story occurring in actual locations throughout Nicholas County, a place which we are all familiar adds an additional level of enjoyment to the book.

About the Author

Sterling Young grew up in Cincinnati, but spent much of his childhood staying with his grandparents in Lincoln County, Kentucky. After living in various places, he now lives in a log home that he built in rural Kentucky.

Sterling Young will be at the Bracken County Public Library for a book selling and signing event from 6-8 p.m. on Wednesday, December 4th.

GFWC Success For Survivors Scholarship applications open to Intimate Partner Abuse Survivors

Each $2,500 Scholarship Aims to Encourage and Help Victims Pursue Career Goals

The General Federation of Women's Clubs announced today that applications are now being accepted for the organization's Success for Survivors Scholarship. This unique opportunity encourages intimate partner abuse survivors to reclaim and rebuild their lives by advancing their academic pursuits through a $2,500 scholarship.

"GFWC has a 123-year history of enhancing the lives of others through community improvement and volunteer service," explained GFWC International President Mary Ellen Laister. "The GFWC Success for Survivors Scholarship makes a difference in the lives of intimate partner abuse survivors around the country by helping them pursue their education and career dreams." GFWC Maysville Woman's Club, GFWC Maysville Younger Woman's Club, GFWC Maysville Juniorettes Club (Mason County High School) and the St. Patrick's School's GFWC Cloverettes Club, have supported the Survivors Scholarship since its inception, and "encourage survivors in our area of Kentucky (of intimate partner abuse) to apply for the scholarship to enhance their journey toward empowerment", stated Terri Srinivasan, GFWC Maysville Woman's Club President and GFWC Kentucky State Domestic Violence Awareness and Prevention Chairman 2012-14.

In June 2013, GFWC awarded $20,000 in scholarships. The scholarships are funded through generous donations from GFWC members, partners, and friends to the GFWC Signature Project: Domestic Violence Awareness and Prevention Fund. GFWC Maysville Woman's Club members Terri Srinivasan and Maude Teegarden helped collect $3500 at the GFWC Southeastern Regional Conference for the fund in November, 2012.

"According to studies, a higher education can help survivors obtain careers and provide a brighter future," stated GFWC Signature Project Chairman Chris Sienkiewski. "We are grateful for our generous donors who positively impact individuals' pursuit of education and independence."

Members of the GFWC Maysville Woman's Club and GFWC Maysville Younger Woman's Club, along with several of the Juniorette clubs, partnered with First Lady Jane Beshear in the previous 5 years Shop and Share Event, manning the Kroger's store in Maysville on the Saturday prior to Superbowl Sunday, to accept donated food/toiletries/money donations for the local Buffalo Trace Woman's Crisis Center in Maysville. The GFWC Maysville Younger Woman's Club hosted their 11th annual WCC Community Shower on October 24, at the Mason County UK Extension Office. Area GFWC clubs have partnered with the WCC to provide funds and food for area trainings in domestic violence for area law enforcement and social workers.

Survivors of intimate partner abuse seeking higher education to advance their careers, train for a new career, or reenter the job market are encouraged to apply for the GFWC Success for Survivors Scholarship. Candidates must be enrolled or planning to enroll at an accredited post-secondary or vocational institution. In addition, candidates must be recommended by a licensed or accredited domestic violence agency, counselor, and/or social worker.

The scholarship application deadline is January 31, 2014. For more information and to download the application, visit unmv.GFWC.org/Scholarship.

Happy Thanksgiving

A bounty of best wishes to our many kind neighbors this Thanksgiving holiday. We're really grateful for all your support.

Use Manure to Help Reduce Fertilizer Bills

Submitted by David Appelman, CEA for ANR

Sources: Frank Sikora, soil test coordinator; & Lloyd Murdock, extension soils specialist

With the high costs of fertilizer, you may want to consider animal manure from your own farm or one nearby to provide nutrients to your crops and reduce your fertilizer bill at the same time.

With the growth in the Kentucky poultry industry in recent years, many areas of the state have access to poultry litter. Using animal waste not only adds nutrients to the soil but also helps build up organic materials and can increase crop yields.

To correctly apply animal waste to the land requires you to know the manure's nutrient content, best application times and methods, availability of nutrients to crops and how to balance crop nutrient needs using manures, fertilizers and other nutrient sources.

The first step is to take a soil test so you'll know what nutrients the crop field needs. Next, you need to have the manure tested for its nutrient content. Nutrient content of manure varies depending on the type of animal, type and amount of bedding used, manure's moisture content and time and method of storage.

It is important to note that some manure nutrients are not as readily available to crops as commercial fertilizer's nutrients are, especially nitrogen. Its availability depends on the crop being grown, type of manure used and when and how the manure is applied. A general rule of thumb is half of the nitrogen in the poultry litter will be available to the crop.

Growing crops have the greatest ability to take up nitrogen, so manures applied during crop growth will have the least risk of nitrogen loss.

The availability of phosphate from manure in the first year's crop after application is somewhat less than with commercial fertilizers while potash in manure is comparable in availability.

The Cooperative Extension Service can help producers navigate through the ins and outs of using manure as fertilizer. Soil and manure testing are both available through the Bracken County office. Several publications are also available to assist producers. Extension publication, "Using Animal Manures as Nutrient Sources" (AGR-146) and a computer spreadsheet (<http://soils.rs.uky.edu/manureprogram.htm>) are available to help determine application rates and fertilizer credits.

For more information on fertilizer management, contact the Bracken County Cooperative Extension Service.

Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

24 reasons why there's still Thanks in Thanksgiving for one ole guy

Thanksgiving.

Has the intrinsic value of the holiday become a hiccup until 12:01 Black Friday? Is it a series of YouTube images of a shopper stampede past pushed back glass doors into retail stores for "pictures at 6! news?"

Last week I was standing at a drugstore front aisle where the first display to get shopper's attention might have been a pilgrim or a cardboard turkey, but was instead a life-sized Santa Claus.

C'mon.

Is Thanksgiving becoming a meal and afternoon nap while the Detroit Lions muck up the television screen?

From its rather odd origin, Thanksgiving Day has gradually shucked off traditional definitions we knew or thought we did last century. Abraham Lincoln declared in 1863 the fourth Thursday in November as Thanksgiving. Odd that, considering it was in the middle of a (Civil) War.

Roll the calendar forward 114 years and what've we got? Thanksgiving in Kentucky, what's it mean to you?

Age mellows us, I think, and sharpens our appreciation for delicious memories related to Thanksgiving we did not recognize until later. Today, we ought resist businesses that would bull-rush us on to Christmas, with no pause to recount and be thankful for blessings at Thanksgiving.

My gratitude begins with: America, I love this place!

This week, a random items for which I am privileged and grateful to be around to share.

- You.
- This newspaper. For privilege to share a point of view for your consideration.
- Critics. Appreciate them always. Disagreeable ones clear the fog from a good rhetorical spanking. And, constructive critics with ideas, point-of-views to move one to say "hmmm."

- Options. Asked last week if I'm considering retirement, I'm grateful to have one. Ask my wife to choose.
- In athletics ...
- Blessing. Can a Thanksgiving football weekend be any better than – Tennessee at Kentucky; and cream of the crop survivors still standing in the state high school playoffs?
- I'm grateful my path crossed those of Calvin Bird (Corbin) and Howard Crittenden (Cuba). They left us this year. All-American athletes, but each was more an All-American human being.
- Legacies. Dean Smith was a recipient of the President's Medal of Freedom recently. A Hall of Fame ball coach gave North Carolina 36 years, prepared teams for 879 wins. Smith insisted his Tar Heels be college men and they revere him still. Smith's legacy, 96 per cent of his players graduated college.
- Player awards. My favorites in 2013 are A.J. McCarron (Alabama) for the Heisman, Teddy Bridgewater (Louisville) for John Unitas Award, and Antonio Andrews (Western Kentucky) for the Paul Hornung Trophy. Good players, good young men.
- Keepin 'em Honest. Two months ago an internet columnist expert on hoops recruiting wrote: "After landing (Jabari) Parker, Duke doesn't have any other recruits still considering coming to Durham." Having added three 5-stars by last week Duke leap-frogged Kentucky for best class.
- Hunch Dept. Tall, talented and promising kid and with a name like Elijah Sindelar, quarterback at Caldwell County High has work to do, but is drawing raves like this from Todd Griffin in Princeton, "... "there are times when he unleashes passes you usually only see on Sundays. ... Sometimes it's difficult to believe he's just a high school junior."

- Pittsburgh Pirates. Gave me joyous days of summer and autumn in 2013. Blessing, the good guys.Manager of the year, Clint Hurdle and National League MVP, Andrew McCutchen share more than honors. Both are community activists to betterment of people.
- I'm grateful that, at 77, Bill Mazeroski sold his treasured Pirates memorabilia for others to enjoy and his charity and family to benefit.
- I'm grateful for Vanderbilt and Northwestern. Universities where scholarship is for scholar athletes who deem sports as part of education and future.
- For chest thumping braggarts in college and professional sports who believe their success was achieved solo, these sobering words: "Someone is sitting in the shade today because someone planted a tree a long time ago." – Warren Buffett, billionaire.
- Augustine Rubit, All Sun Belt performer at South Alabama receives his college degree next month. Nominated for Senior CLASS Award for Division I seniors who reflect ideals in community, classroom, character and competition, Rubit grew up in Houston without a father and mother battling substance abuse. He failed sixth grade. Then the light came on. "I'm still just amazed to have the opportunity to play college basketball and get my degree," Rubit said the other day.
- Beyond the chalk lines ...
- Good hands people. Because of their good work, sports editors Kevin Patton in Henderson (The Gleaner), Todd Griffin in Princeton (Times-Leader) and Dan Manley in Mt. Sterling (radio and Advocate), I am heartened to know sports journalism is on good hands and thriving above the ga-ga in Kentucky.
- Dept of Genuine: prep prospect Justise Winslow committed to Duke last week with no mention of the NBA, "The tradition, what Coach K has done," Winslow said. "I loved the family environment on the official visit. It just felt right."
- University of Kentucky displayed designs for changes at Commonwealth Stadium

50# Shelled Corn	$8⁰⁰

recently. No state tax dollars will be used and, a new science building will be partially funded by athletics.

- The internet. Beyond twitter or facebook, click a switch and wonders of Planet Earth wonderments are ours instantly in photographs and film and information. Other cultures, ideas, good people, and music. All to give us hope over heads of self-serving politicians.
- Ken Burns. How richer we are that this dynamic filmmaker came along to give us – Baseball, The Civil War, and The National Parks and more.
- Friends. Thank you. My cup runneth over with a few and I look up to each with enduring reverence and admiration.
- Doris Kearns Goodwin. Historian, Pulitzer Prize winner, remarkable writer and unabashed Red Sox fan, thankfully she shared a reason why. "My continuing love of baseball is inseparably linked to memories of my father."
- And, Worth Repeating at Thanksgiving: "There never was a man who did anything worth doing, who did not receive more than he gave." Amen to Henry Beecher Ward.
- Mother. Celebrating her 94th Thanksgiving Day, Mom is as shiny as a new dime.
- Happy Thanksgiving to you.
- And so it goes.

Local Dealer attends Kubota Tractor Corp. Annual Meeting, Unveiling of New 2014 Products

Kubota unveils game-changing RTV X-Series in Memphis, available in Kubota Dealerships Nationwide in November

Jay Pritchard from Riverside Tractor & Equipment, LLC of Augusta attended Kubota Tractor Corporation's 2013 National Dealer Meeting in Memphis, Tenn., joining more than 1,000 Kubota dealers from across the country for an exclusive first look at the latest Kubota product introductions and innovations.

One of the meeting's product highlights included the introduction of the new Kubota RTV X-Series – the RTV-X900, X1120D, and the X1100C – the next generation in work utility vehicles. According to Power Products Marketing's North American Utility Vehicle Report, Kubota RTVs have been the best-selling diesel utility vehicles in North America since 2004, and Kubota plans to maintain that reputation with the Kubota RTV X-Series. "My customers already like the current RTV line, so they are going to love the Kubota RTV X-Series," said Jay Pritchard of Riverside Tractor & Equipment. "At the core is a Kubota diesel engine and a hydraulic transmission, a powerful combination that delivers a whole new level of driving performance."

Kubota's "Work. Build. Grow." theme was brought to life by highlighting activities that will build on the company's success and continue the growth experienced over the last four decades. During the meeting, representatives from Riverside Tractor & Equipment, LLC also attended field demonstrations and classroom sessions, gaining hands-on operator experience with Kubota's latest products.

"Kubota dealers are central to this company's success," said Mr. Yuichi (Ken) Kitao, president, Kubota Tractor Corporation. "We are proud to work with our entire dealer network to meet and exceed our customers' expectations by providing them with quality products that offer great value and an exceptional customer experience."

BID NOTICE

The Bracken County Fiscal Court is accepting bids for rock removal and bank stabilization along a section of Holts Creek, approximately one and one-half mile south of the AA Highway on Holts Creek Road. This project will include approximately 400 LF of debris removal from the creek bed and approximately 330 LF of grouted rock creek/road bank armor.

This work will be completed under NRCS specifications which are available from the Bracken County Judge/Executive's office in Brooksville (116 West Miami Street, 1st Floor, Brooksville KY 41004).

A Pre-Bid Meeting will be conducted at the site on November 26, 2013 at 9:00 a.m.

All bids are due on December 6, 2013 at 10:00 a.m. in the office of the Bracken Co Judge Executive, Earl Bush. The bids will be opened at that time.

The Bracken County Fiscal Court reserves the right to waive any and all formalities in bidding. The Court further reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to accept any bid, whether or not the lowest price, that the court in its sole discretion deems to be in the best interest of sound fiscal management for the county.

Further questions and concerns contact Judge Bush (606) 735-2300.
